Dear student,

Time flies when you're having fun. The first part of this phrase is especially true when I realise a lot has changed since we first saw you in year one. Then you still had to figure out what you wanted to do. Now you are determined to pass your I.B. exam! There is still a lot to be done for this exam and for your ordinary VWO exam, but I know you have chosen the right track. Although a lot of things are obligatory and you cannot always comprehend why you are doing them, you have the chance of developing your skills to the full, exploring a range of subjects and work forms very different from other students. Enjoy your final years at school. I hope this year will bring you a lot of excitement and fun in what you are doing.

Lots of success!
